[illegible] Oct. 13.—A most remarkable change [illegible] occurred this evening. At noon [illegible] ceded the state to the Republicans [illegible] 10 000 to 15 000 but this afternoon [illegible] private advices which considerably [illegible] their figures, putting down Hayes' pros[illegible] [illegible] victory. A. E. Wickoff, chairman of the Republican committee, admits this news of this afternoon will cut down Hayes' prospective majority but claims no [illegible] in keeping with that at the Democratic rooms. He declares he can't see how it is possible [illegible] Hayes' majority. Republican figures give the Republicans [illegible] majority in the house [illegible] counting four considered doubtful and six majority in the senate with four members in doubt yet.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—A revision of Republican figures gives Hayes net gain at 8,411 in 60 counties. On the other hand Democratic figures claim Hayes will not have over 2,000 majority

Iowa Election.

DUBUQUE, Oct. 13.—Later returns of this county make but little change in the state ticket, the Democratic majority being about 1,500. For legislature the Republicans elect two out of three members and possibly all three of them. Special dispatches to the Herald show considerable increased Republican majorities over last year from nearly all parts of the state. The majority for Kirkwood it is believed, will reach 35 000 with a strong majority in the general assembly

Nebraska Election

Later from the Iowa Election

DES MOINES, Oct. 13, 11 P. M.—Up to this hour the State Register has special dispatches giving pretty complete reports from 61 of the 100 counties of the state. Of these 53 give Republican majorities aggregating 35,389 and eight Democratic majorities aggregating 3,001. These counties represent three fourths of the state and the returns from them indicate a Republican gain over 1874 [illegible]. The counties not heard from are mostly in the north west part of the state and are the strong Republican counties in the state. The Register [illegible] this will make a total Republican majority in the state of 35,000—a gain of over [illegible]

Scoring the Admiralty.

LONDON, Oct 13.—The admiralty minute which was promulgated yesterday has called forth much criticism by the London press. The Times this morning in an article on the subject says it is not clear that the minute fully observes the rule that the conditions of service in the navy ought to be upheld without favor or distinction. The Daily News and Telegraph also have editorials on the subject and condemn the minute. The Standard government organ in its comments says the minute will not secure more public approval than the notorious admiralty circular in regard to fugitive slaves which the government found necessary to suspend last week. The Morning Echo says Mr Hunt is mistaken if he imagines he can satisfy the country by offering a navigating lieutenant as a scape goat

A Row in a Stock Company.

It is currently reported that the stockholders of the Woodville Mining Company have succeeded in getting together already a representation of 50 000 shares of stock. J Rogers Johnson, secretary, is unable as yet to verify his report but is confident that at a meeting to be held to-morrow evening, when several of the large shareholders will join in the movement, there will be no less than 80 000 shares represented, a large majority of the shares issued, in which case they will have the whole concern in their own hands and may depose the present officers if necessary without any legal proceedings. It is generally believed there has been an over issue of stock and that Pearson and his associates are using every endeavor to turn this movement into a fiasco. The committees of four and eleven appointed by the stockholders called at the office of the company at 1 o'clock this afternoon and separately demanded to see the books and vouchers and as was expected permission was refused by the directors, who it seems met this afternoon and decided that no committee having any connection with Messrs Crossman & Kennedy should have access to the books. Refusal was given in writing

Judge Boreman after the Polygamists

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct 13.—In the district court to-day, Judge Boreman delivered a strong charge to the grand jury in opposition to polygamy or bigamy and in regard to enforcing the law of congress of 1862 punishing the former. He stated that it had never been respected and every possible means had been used to prevent its enforcement; that the leaders of the people while teaching this crime repudiate it themselves when brought into a court room; that as there is no statute in this territory in regard to [illegible] required and none need be [illegible] called upon [illegible] all persons known to be living in polygamy; that it depends upon grand juries whether the laws shall be enforced or not or whether congress shall be called upon to adopt more stringent laws.

STATE FAIR

Fifteenth Annual Fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society

Third Day

WEDNESDAY, October 13, 1875

The lovely weather is having its effect upon the fair and the throng is daily increasing while several of the different departments, especially in the ladies and fine art departments, fruits, vegetables, grain, domestic woolen manufactures are crowded to repletion, and the officers of the society are busy as bees answering questions, appointing superintendents of departments, or raising awarding committees. There is one thing notable about this fair that augurs well for the future welfare of the society, if some untoward circumstances do not occur to mar its bright prospect, and that is, that there are persons from the most extreme counties of the state, and a majority of them have brought something to show to call attention to their particular portion of the country or to be placed on exhibition for premiums, such as fine horses from Southern Oregon, large cattle from Lake county, or mammoth vegetables from the eastern portion of the state

The Young Men's Christian Association commenced a series of meetings yesterday, and are having more of a congregation than was supposed

HORSES

The department of horses is remarkably well represented for speed both draft and roadster. The celebrated horses Foster and Twenty One are both here in training, and will be tested on next Friday in what will undoubtedly prove the race of the season

Mr Welch is again on hand with Bell founder, a bay mare that has trotted her mile in 2 30, Mollie, bay mare, time 2 41, Blue Mountain, an Oregon bred and bay stallion 2 41, and Startle, bay gelding, time 2 45 Belle bay mare, but has not yet made a record

Mr B B Acker has Eph Maynard and Brown Dick, but their histories are so well known it is not necessary to refer to them

Mr C I Bacon has Hambletonian and two two year old fillies, but I was unable to obtain information as to their merits

Mr Wm Bigham has several thoroughbred horses. Among them I noticed Luther a four year old horse and he is a finely made animal. Also, Foster around whom a great deal of interest is centering, especially as he is to be the rival of the California horse Twenty One, for race track record. Last year he was so unfortunate as to injure one of his feet so badly that the hoof finally came off, but it has since grown out and he will enter for the purse,

Mr Ben Snipes is the owner of Yakima, so I am told, that won the race on Monday, for mile heats 2 in 3. He is a beautiful dark bay, three years old, and will probably contest many a race in the future.

Mr Taylor, the gentleman who last year brought up Osceola, is now keeping and training Twenty One, the competitor of Foster. He is a sorrel stallion five years old, thoroughbred, and foaled and raised near Napa, California. His race is two miles and repeat. As soon as his stable door is opened there is a crowd ready to rush in and examine his points and ask questions about him, then they immediately besiege Foster's stable

Mr J Put Smith is on hand with a beautiful horse named Coming Pathfinder who is 6 years old and will shortly go into training for trotting

Mr S G Reed has a fine horse named Young Marquis, a 5 year old Clydesdale stallion, and a horseman informed me that he is a fine specimen of that stock. In the next stall, Autocrat, a 12 year old roadster. He evidently has enough muscle to move a very heavy load, and at the same time he has action

Hon J W Nesmith has his contribution towards improving the stock of horses, the first one being Delaware and has a good record as a running horse, and when three years old won a two mile race in 3 40½. Winthrop Knox, five years old, has a good record. Black Stranger, and Magnum Knox, both good horses, and Col Nesmith is meeting with good encouragement in his efforts to improve the stock of Oregon

Mr J R Prince has a sorrel stallion Red Buck five years old and is a fine horse

D Simpson has a 4 year old black stallion of the Clydesdale stock, and is a large, well made horse

Mr Hapton's stall has a 3 year old Black Hawk Morgan stallion, and is a fine specimen of his stock

J W Valgamore is the owner of a 5 year old black stallion of Clydesdale stock, weighing 1 100 pounds, and is entered as a draft horse

G W Tucker has a Clydesdale brown stallion named Granger and is entered for a draft horse

J M Pitman has a 4 year old running horse, but he has not been tried

H W Taylor has a good horse of all work, six years old

H M Bowen is owner of Capt Jinks, a bay stallion of all work

Mr G J Basket has Witham, a dark sorrel stallion three years old, is a thoroughbred

In the next stall stands Napa, a thoroughbred sorrel stallion, 7 years old, running a mile in 1 47. Valant, a dark stallion, 2 years old, running horse

Noah Cornett has probably the finest 2 year old stallion colt on the ground, was bred by Mr Myer's horse, White Prince, is Percheron stock and weighs 1 225 pounds. He is an iron grey in color and is a good breed of all work. Mr Cornett lives in Douglas county and has brought his horse to this fair to show the people what kind of stock they are raising in this state

Mr Charles Stewart owns a fine dark bay stallion, a horse of all work. Kate, a 12 year old roadster, will compete for all premiums of that class and stands an even show for the blue ribbon

H H Cole has entered a fine horse for all work

Dan Young has a horse named Bill Bigham, a 5 year old Oregon bred running horse, and has competed in several races of 3 in 5

W G Scoggins has Norwich, a 6 year old running horse, and has made his mile in 1 49½

There are several more horses in the stables but I am unable to interview the owners or keepers, consequently am compelled to omit them, although I spent considerable time among the stables. The display is much finer than at any previous fair and shows a decided improvement in that line of stock

SWINE

J W Hereford is an individual who undoubtedly believes that it does not cost any more to feed a fine graded hog than it does a common everyday digger, and has several of the China Poland. His pens contain pigs of both sexes six months old that would make an average butcher's mouth water. W [illegible] Clarke has a sow two years old of Chester white, also one one year old same breed, while beside them in another pen are six pigs a few months old that are, as a lady remarked, "beauties." Mr [illegible] J DeLashmutt has a Poland China sow one year old and [illegible] pigs that have about filled the pen and are fine specimens of swine. A boar one year old [illegible] fully grown he will pull the scales down in [illegible] Mr Thomas H [illegible] is also an admirer of China Poland and has [illegible] quite a number of entries in all the [illegible] and will sharply contest all of them. Mr Thomas Cross, the veteran swine breeder and butcher of Oregon, has several very fine [illegible] on exhibition and can be seen [illegible] among the [illegible]. His [illegible] while his sow and [illegible] are constantly being admired. Mr S [illegible] has several of his thoroughbred Berkshires on exhibition. His enormously [illegible] imported boar has caused more astonishment probably than any other animal on the grounds. It will probably weigh nearly 700 pounds. Mr George Cook is a new man in the swine business, but is evidently up in the science of that particular stock. He has on exhibition a fine Berkshire boar six months old. Mr A J Hunsaker, who lives near Jefferson, has several very fine specimens of white China swine on exhibition

SPECIAL PREMIUMS

D Grierson, who is the owner of Ben Roy, has offered the following special premiums for colts sired by that horse: For horse colts, 1st premium $12, 2d premium $8, 3d premium $5; for mare colts, 1st premium $7, 2d premium $5, 3d premium $4

DAIRY DEPARTMENT

J I Hathaway of Vancouver, is again on hand with a number of his fine cheese and several pounds of the superb butter that is manufactured at his dairy, but another branch of the Hathaway house proposes to contest the honors for making the best butter, and that individual is Miss M J Hathaway, who has on exhibition several pounds of splendid butter. There was another lot that looked very well, but had been most too highly colored by carrots to avoid the deception that was intended to be practiced upon the committee of awards. There were several other entries made in this department but the names of the exhibitors had been omitted, and consequently we are unable to give proper credit to the makers

MISCELLANEOUS.

There have been more articles [illegible] in the miscellaneous department [illegible] than ever before, and often articles have been entered in this department that most assuredly should have found a place in some of the numerous divisions and be awarded a handsome premium. J W Wills has on exhibition a small box of Italian bees and several pounds of their make of honey, both strained and in comb. There are any amount of specimens of nice handiwork, such as toys and articles to decorate walls or rooms, brackets of various and unique patterns, sufficiently so that they must have cost more mental work in devising the patterns than the financial receipts would warrant. Ax helves by the dozen, small sleighs, willow bird cages, Oregon made chairs for parlor and kitchen, brooms of all the different patterns and finish, showing that that important branch of industry is receiving an incentive and encouragement

There has been a great mortality among the squirrels and blue jays, judging from the number of scalps of the former and the bills of the latter, they in the aggregate numbering thousands, and I will remark that they do not make first class fresco for the pavilion walls but are relieved by the scalps of three panthers

Mr W T Newby has large and well selected specimens of Oregon woods, and probably contains a piece of quite, or nearly so, all of the different species, which will most probably be forwarded to the centennial through the commission. There is also another collection, but not quite so extensive, but well selected, but I could not find the name

Some one has manufactured a new style of pruning shears, and for a specimen of workmanship, cannot be excelled by any one in the pavilion, and is a worthy article withal.

There is a firm in Gervais by the name of Patterson & Co, who have on exhibition quite a number of iron teakettles, which are something new for this part of the country, and evidently possess merit

Mr J W Crawford has a splendid lot of stoves of various patterns, on exhibition, consisting of plain and figured cooking stoves, and a number of parlor and office stoves. They have considerable amount of kitchen and workroom utensils, made out of paper, and are attracting a great deal of attention. Mr Crawford is a gentleman well adapted for that branch of business, and is doing a fine business in introducing that particular style of furniture to the general public

Mr I Rodgers has invented a new apple corer and entertains the idea that he will be able to supply a long standing need that has been felt, especially among the fruit-preserving companies

Mr J. R. Robbins has on exhibition about a hundred pounds of stone coal which he denominates as anthracite but is not first quality but will probably prove better upon further development

BIG RACE.

The race to-morrow (Thursday) promises to be one of the closest and best contested ever run over the State Fair track. It is for Oregon raised horses, mile heats 3 in 5. The entries will be Norway, by Norwich, the Gird colt, by Doc Landsey, Billy Bigham by Doc Landsey and J F Miller's Rye Straw, brother to Billy Bigham. Money is freely offered and no one can guess the result

FRIDAY'S RACES

On Friday Foster, Basket's Nappa and Twenty One, (the latter just from California where he ran a heat in 1 44½) will have a two mile heat race. Twenty One appears to be the favorite but Foster is never beaten until the horses have passed the score

COMMITTEES

The committees are all at work now in the different departments, consequently your reporters cannot examine all the articles as well as they could wish, but so far have received nothing but courteous treatment from all who are in authority on the ground

MEETING OF THE SOCIETY

At a meeting of the society held Tuesday October 12th, in the pavilion, the following proceedings were had

The annual meeting of the Oregon Agricultural Society was called to order by Hon M Wilkins, who made a few interesting remarks

The list of superintendents of division being ready was read, and the following persons noted absent: Division B special premiums D C Stewart, division K M L Hoxter, division L Mrs W P Watson, division N Mrs J Anderson, division R, A C Walling, division S F M Gatch

Article 3 of the constitution was read and the following amendments made by E M Waite

Resolved, That the words "three dollars" in section 1 of article 3 be stricken out, and the words "five dollars" be inserted so as to read as follows: "And does not allow any person who has become a member this year to vote"

Mr J Minto offered the following substitute for Mr Waite's amendment, which on motion was adopted: I move to amend by the substitution of three dollars instead of five dollars, as proposed, and admitting any person fifteen years of age or upwards

Moved to strike out the word "person" and insert the word "citizen" in the amendment just adopted. Lost

Mr Miller moved that the board of managers authorize the Horticultural Society to revise the premium list. Adopted

Mr Minto introduced the following

Resolved, That it is the sense of this society that the classification of sheep should be changed so as to place the merinos at the head of the list, also, to allow a specimen of one ram or one ewe on exhibition

Mr David Guthrie offered the following

Resolved, That the thanks of this society are due and are hereby tendered to President Wilkins for his earnest and faithful efforts in behalf of this society during the past year

Adopted by a rising vote

Resolved, That the thanks of this society are hereby tendered to the various transportation companies for their favors in behalf of this society during the past year. Adopted

The following officers were elected: President, W I Watson; Vice Presidents, G W Dimick of Marion, Jos Hamilton of Linn; Secretary, E M Waite of Marion; Treasurer, Ladd & Bush, bankers. Directors—Thomas Edwards, Lane; G Scroggin, Washington; Wm Elliott, Clackamas; W W West, Columbia; John Minto, Marion; Henry Miller, Multnomah; Jas Eaton, G J Basket, Polk; Jos Kelsy, Benton; C T Burkhart, Linn; B F Stewart, Grant; Wm Bigham, Wasco; W C Myer, Jackson; Orvil Stewart, Yamhill; John Cavinese, Union; R W Morrison, Clatsop; ——, Tillamook; Hugh Fields, Umatilla; J D Burnett, Douglas; W H Brewster, Baker

MILLINERY—HAND AND MACHINE SEWING

Mrs Moxley of Salem is the only milliner who has entered the lists, and her work is too widely known to need praise. Yet the black velvet bonnet, trimmed with black ostrich tips and a long white plume, certainly deserves the adjectives applied by one lady—sweet, pretty and many more

Certainly at no previous fair have the ladies displayed so many specimens of needlework in every grade. But among the many, Mrs J V Taylor, of Salem, deserves credit for the many and well made articles of both machine and hand sewing. Gents suits, one by hand and another by machine, will compete well with any tailor's work.

Mrs Lizzie Adair also enters into this field

A black alpaca walking suit, by Miss Belle Atkinson, was elegant

An opera cloak made by hand, ornamented with beads and bearing a card with Mrs Josie De Vore Johnson, is very handsome

Mrs Amanda Wright a number of shirts, machine made, that one, who is not a judge, would certainly place the blue ribbon upon

There are many, many articles of both hand and machine made underclothing for ladies wear, deserving notice for beautiful work, but time will not allow.

A white morning wrapper, by Mrs O. J Carr, has a great amount of work upon it and displays much taste

The Howe Sewing Machine Co place twenty two specimens upon exhibition

ON THE TURF

There were two races this afternoon, the first a running race, single dash of one mile. The entries were Ballant, entered by Basket; Oregon, by Bigham, and Dollie Stott, by Stott. The horses got off well, but on the first heat Ballant and Oregon came under the score neck and neck, and the judges declared it a dead heat. Before the horses were called up a second time Dollie S was withdrawn, and the contest was between the other two, which was very close, but Ballant took the first money, making his mile in 2 03½. The purse for this race was $150—to the first horse $100, and to the second, $50

The trotting race down in the programme for this afternoon did not take place, there being no entries; but a spirited contest was engaged in for a special purse of $125 to first horse and $75 to the second. The two trotters, Mollie Welch and Blue Mountain Boy, were entered by J J Welch and B B Acker respectively. Both heats were won by Mollie, the horse breaking badly under the control of a driver not accustomed to him

WARREN, AND M'MINNVILLE COLLEGE

McMINNVILLE, Oct 12 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Democratic papers of this state make so much ado about the public school in McMinnville district that it may be well to notice some of their statements

The gist of their articles are that there is no public schools in this district, that the district does not receive the benefit of the public school fund, that while the "solid men" of the district favor building a public school house, Warren and his friends oppose so doing, and have diverted the public money to McMinnville college. Any one who has read the first page of the Weekly Mercury of the 8th inst will see that this is a fair summary of their charges

The truth of the matter is that the public school has always been taught in a room in the college. It has always been under the supervision of the directors of the district, who employ the teacher and apportion the public money among the scholars, the same as in any other district. Instead of the "solid men" being in favor of building a public school house, they have, with very few exceptions, opposed so doing, because it would necessitate their paying $2 000 to $2,500 to build the house, when they now have a room rent free. Warren has not been a voter in this district for the past ten years, so the assertion that he diverted the public money to the college is, to say the least of it, a mistake. Who Warren's friends are that oppose public schools may be judged by the fact that two out of the three directors are supporters of Mr Lane and not one of them is a Baptist. Another fact is, that those voting in favor of a tax to build a school house were about in the proportion of three to one Republicans

I am informed that the editor of the Mercury prides himself on the candor with which he treats his opponents, yet on the subject under consideration some designing knave has woefully imposed upon his credulity or he is guilty of publishing willful falsehoods. J

INDIANS PROVE THEIR ABILITY TO SUPPORT THEMSELVES.

If a man can support himself he ought to do it, and he ought no longer to be a public charge. Minors are in this condition. Their majority is designed to be fixed at the age a boy or girl can assume self-support. Some parents and guardians let children pay their own way sooner than the law allows the child to assume the duty. We wish every one to have full personal rights and the corresponding duties as soon as possible. We fix the time by law, according to the best light we have

We have applied this law of civil life to the negro. He is no longer a slave, to be led and fed and cared for as a child. He proves his power to care for himself and his family. His rights of person and property rest upon the same law as that of the white man. He can go into court with any case, and upon the same terms that his white neighbor can. His home is his castle. His land is his own, which he can sell, or devise as he chooses. His children have the right of training in the public schools. He must pay taxes and bear his part of the public burdens.

We breathe freer as a nation, now that the negro is lifted out of his minority into the plane of right and duty. The Indian has also been under tutelage, and has given signs of his power and desire to be a man among men. Some have doubted whether he can ever rise, yet the proofs abound that he too is making good his claims to legal rights and to legal responsibilities.

When the hop-raisers of the Puyallup valley want hands for their harvest, they employ all the Indians and white men they can get, and pay them wages according to their work. The mills at Tacoma, Seattle, Port Gamble and Port Ludlow, employ hundreds of Indians as firemen, woodmen, [illegible], sawyers and assistants in almost every department of the mill work, and pay them regular monthly wages, with or without board, as they agree. A lumber surveyor, who sells from the yard at Seattle from ten to twenty-five thousand feet per day, says that his Indian assistant is as good a man as can be found for assorting and piling. The Indians in the mill are as quick and skillful in handling the logs and their part of the machinery as the white men. The Indians on the Skokomish reservation are as good loggers and drivers and lumbermen as white men in other camps. They put their logs into the booms, raft them and sell them with skill and dispatch. They use their money to support their families and to buy tools and teams for more business, as white men do.

The Indians of Neah bay are skillful fishermen and fur seal hunters, and annually sell some thousands of dollars' worth of fish and furs, for which they get family supplies and coin of the Victoria merchants. Some of them bury or conceal their money as the Orientals used to do for the want of other securities.

The rumseller and sharper fail to get all their cash, though he longs for a position to do it. The Indian is waylaid by civilized robbers, who plot to steal his subsidies and his earnings. He runs the gauntlet in peril of his property and his family. A gentleman said, "I was at Fort Colville a few years ago, while the military had charge of the reservation. I saw the Indian girls coming and going to and from the barracks. I saw one girl with a half breed baby about a year old. She was a chief's daughter. I asked her the child's name. 'John M——,' she said. Who was its father? 'Capt M——,' was her reply. I learned that he had kept that girl as his mistress"

I was told by a visitor to another reservation at that time, that the girls were taken from the school at the age of fourteen and fifteen and found in the quarters of the officers and men afterwards.

The Indians were furnished blankets and utensils, and encouraged to raise crops and herds, and to build houses and improve their homes, but they had no rights which white men felt bound to respect. They were not sure of anything. In fact they were despoiled of their daughters by the very men who came to protect them

If their children were not safe their property was not safe. They had no motive to earn or to keep money or goods. No man has a motive to work unless he has a title to his earnings. No man has a heart to improve his home or train his children unless he has the right by law to protect them. If he is a minor he has no such legal power

Rev. J H Wilbur states that during the eighteen months in which the military had charge of the Yakima reservation the Indians lost over $40 000 worth of property. The farms run to waste, the herds were sold off or destroyed, the schools were mostly closed, the people were becoming indolent and poor and starved, many girls were taken from their homes and kept as mistresses. Instead of their former prosperity, desolation reigned

Had the Indian father been allowed to take his own case into court, he would have found advocates and a jury of his peers to defend him in the right to his grain, and cattle and horses and above all, to his daughters

Our rights are sacred under the law, and in law only. Otherwise, we run the gauntlet of foes at every step. The Indian has long been doing it. Men think his race is doomed, and count him dead. But he rises with a little help. He proves his right to be a man. He asks with searching look "Is this my land, siwash tilicum, my own, to keep like yours? Is this my house? Is this my garden?" He wants a title that no treaty of assumed chiefs can make void. He wants it in his own right, like every other man. He wants it in fact and in law. He wants to know that his cabin, rude as it is, is his castle defended by the invisible sword of Justice instead of scalping knife and gun

Give him a chance, and he shows the doubting white man what he can and what he will do

Rev Mr Wilbur took a ragged dirty boy, a slave a few years ago, cleaned him, clothed him, taught him and put him to learn the blacksmith's trade. That young man is now at the head of the shop on the reservation. He has done all their horse-shoeing and repairing for one or two years. He mends the mowers and their implements. He is in the city to-day looking into the blacksmith shops, and seeing what he never saw before of city life. He says your shops have many more tools than mine. The government now gives him a commission for this service. Mr Wilbur has Indian boys who are good saddlers and harness makers and whose work is equal to what he gets in the shops of white men

He has carpenters and other mechanics of equal skill. His new steam saw-mill at the foot of the Simcoe mountain, saws 10,000 feet per day. The Indians cut and haul all the logs, and manufacture the lumber, except that he hires for a head sawyer and haul engineer two white men. The assistant engineer is an Indian, who often runs the engine for hours alone.

The children in the schools are apt to learn and be orderly in their habits. The Sabbath assemblies in their churches join in the worship of song and of prayer and of testimony for Christ, with a simple faith and fervor that win and warm colder hearts.

Rev C A Huntington's Indian boys and girls, who are out of their filthy huts only eight or nine months, [illegible] and docile as children of year's schooling.

Mr. Eells at [illegible], Mr. Cowley at Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Martin and others at Kamas, can show as pleasing results of their labors.

The present policy proves itself to be the way to solve the Indian problem, by treating him as a man. It shows that his tutelage may soon cease; that he needs no gift of blankets, tools or food; that he will earn money and have his own home if allowed by law in fee simple

We then will need no Indian policy. We shall give every one the rights and impose on every one the duties of men under the law, as we do other people. A.

H B No 25, by Mr Hughes, repealing an act approved Nov 13, 1873, providing [illegible] for building a court house and jail in King Co. Passed.

H. B. No 26, by Mr. Shrum, to amend an act relative to crimes and punishments in criminal practice. Referred to committee on judiciary.

The committee appointed to make arrangements for the legislative body to visit the public buildings, reported that they had chartered the [illegible] for that purpose for the sum of $[illegible]. Mr. Wood enquired if the reporters of the [illegible] had been invited.

Moved and carried, that the members [illegible] of both houses, governor, [illegible] and reporters of the press proceed to visit the buildings on Wednesday next.

Mr. Douthit objected to voting in favor of making the territory pay for visiting the [illegible] [illegible] and would rather pay [illegible] have a charge of [illegible] this body.

The speaker explained that a visit to the university, penitentiary and insane asylum was an important one, and one likely to save the territory considerable expense, that if a joint committee should visit the buildings instead of the whole body, the business of the house would be seriously retarded, and about as much expense be incurred in the end without as favorable a result being arrived at.

The judiciary committee reported back H. B. No. 4, act relating to [illegible] as amended.

The committee on education reported back H. B. No. 14 without recommendation. The bill prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors on election day. On motion of Mr G[illegible] the bill was laid on the table.

C B No 7, providing for settling the estate of Sumner H Hinds, was read a third time and passed.

On motion, H. B No 5, for the relief of Mr. M[illegible] man was taken from the table and passed

The committee on Printing reported in favor of R. H Hewitt's bid for incidental printing, and after considerable discussion the report of the committee was adopted

The speaker asked for permission to absent himself from the proposed visit to the public buildings, giving as an excuse, a vast amount of business lying on his hands. The members thought it would not be good policy to grant the request of the honorable gentleman and refused to excuse him, after which the house adjourned to Friday at 10 A. M.

In the council Mr. Hoover presented C. M No 2, asking for a weekly mail between Olympia and Kamilchie, in Mason county. Passed.

Mr Pickering introduced C B. No. 10—appropriating money for building a road across the Snoqualmie pass. Referred to committee on ways and means

Mr. Boone introduced C, B. No. 11—to amend an act providing for a code of civil procedure. Referred to judiciary committee.

C B No 14, Mr Hoover—in relation to deeds of conveyance. Referred to judiciary committee

C B No 6—relating to Tacoma, was passed, also, H M's Nos. 4 and 6, and H. B No 6

If your correspondent accepts the invitation of the house you will probably receive a report of the doings of the "wise men" while on their travels.

An artist traveling in Greece fell into conversation with an Albanian peasant, who told him in all seriousness that women were better than donkeys for carrying burdens, but not so good as mules

A few days ago a Norwich man bought a chest of tea in Providence, and on opening found a stone inside weighing nearly eleven pounds. He remarked that the weighs of Providence are very mysterious. —Norwich Bulletin.

THE REFORM SCHOOL

Some three or four years since the increase of crime among the juvenile population of our city attracted such attention that the subject of a reform school as the only efficient means of checking the evil and saving the rising generation was taken under consideration by a number of our citizens and a plan of action was agreed upon involving the passage through the Legislature of a law providing for the organization of such an institution. The act granted authority to the county court to appropriate $5,000 to the founding of a reform school as soon as an equal amount could be raised by private contributions. The law was passed and the gentlemen authorized by it to incorporate the school held one or two meetings to consider the best mode of proceeding to carry out its provisions. A committee was appointed to prepare whatever papers might be necessary to perfect the organization in a legal manner and another to consider as to the best way to proceed to raise the requisite sum by contributions. Just then came the reaction in business and financial matters, times became dull, money tight, and the reform school project was as a necessary consequence postponed. But the tightness of the times and the stress of the money market did [illegible] still continued to go from idleness to vice and from vice to crime. Grief was still carried to the hearts of parents for children lost. The police court reports still continued to note the appearance of boys just in the first steps of the path that leads to worse than death, and the reappearance of boys who had been there before coming now with crimes upon them which did not admit of their being sent away with admonitions from the judge. And so it goes on yet. Every week the problem of saving the boys of the city from growing up into confirmed criminals is presented in its most painful as well as its most practical aspect by the arrest of children ten, twelve or fourteen years of age for the commission of petty offenses—sometimes of grave crimes—against the laws. The reform school is still needed as much as ever. The complaint of dull times still exists, but if nothing is done till business becomes brisk who knows how long we shall have to wait and how many boys are to be carried into the whirlpool in the mean time?

THE POSITION OF THE PARTIES ON THE CURRENCY QUESTION

The Philadelphia Times has this summing up of the position of parties with respect to the currency question:

The resolutions of the state conventions thus far held upon the currency may be thus classified: Republican for hard money—Maine, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, New York, California, Maryland and Massachusetts, eight; for inflation or non committal—Ohio, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Kentucky, four. Democratic for hard money—Maine, Minnesota, Wisconsin, California, Maryland, Nebraska and Massachusetts, eight; for inflation, or non committal—Ohio, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Kentucky, four. It is pretty much of a muchness.

This is inaccurate. Oregon is omitted in the hard money list of both parties, which would make nine states for hard money to four against in each party, if the remainder of the Times' list were correct. But the remainder is not correct. Wisconsin and Nebraska are set down to the credit of the Democrats as hard money states, both of which dodged the question or attempted to dodge it by declaring for a currency based on gold or silver coin "or its equivalent." If the Democrats in those states had intended to be understood as unqualifiedly in favor of hard money it would have been the easiest thing in the world for them to say so instead of qualifying their specie resolutions with a meaningless alternative. The inflationists all claim that greenbacks are the equivalent of coin, and there is no place on which to hang a doubt that the Democratic conventions of Wisconsin and Nebraska intended to have their resolutions read hard money to hard money people and rag money to rag money people. These states should be set down with the non-committal or else classified by themselves as states in which the Democracy attempt to obtain votes by false pretenses.

A SLANDER REFUTED

The special attention of our readers is called to the letter from McMinnville published this morning, on the subject of Henry Warren's relation with the public school in McMinnville district. This letter completely disposes of the charges made against Mr Warren in connection with that matter. There is not a word of truth in the accusation that Warren has been instrumental in diverting the school funds of the district to the support of the Baptist college there. No such diversion of the funds has in fact been made, the only connection between the district school and the college being that the directors have been allowed to use a room in the college building, free of rent, for district school purposes, employing their own teachers and in all other respects exercising the same supervision and control as in other districts. This answers the charge in all its aspects. But the further truth is that Warren has nothing to do with that district and two out of the three directors, by whom the affairs of the district are managed, are not Warren's but Lane's political friends. These facts can be established by a score of as good citizens as can be found in McMinnville or in any other town in the State. If the Democratic papers that have circulated this charge against Warren are disposed to deal fairly they will now retract it and if they fail to make the retraction the voters who desire an honest campaign will appreciate the conduct of Mr Lane's champions and govern themselves accordingly on the day of election.

THE ALSEA INDIANS

Two weeks ago the dispatches from Washington announced that in accordance with the provisions of an act of Congress the Indians on the Alsea reservation had consented to remove to the reservation provided for them north of their present location and that the Alsea valley would be thrown open to settlement. We are informed however, that the Indians named had not consented, and that no arrangements have been made for their removal as yet or at least that the agent at Alsea has had no official notice of such action on part of the Indians or of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington. The Nestucca Indians did agree to remove from their former location to Siletz and have gone. They were few in number and belonged to a wandering tribe being without a reservation or an agent but the Alsea Indians are still on their old reservation. Their removal is yet a question of time.

The election news calls to mind an adaptation by the Graphic of an old nursery rhyme:

Rock a bye, rag baby
On a tree top
While Kelley blows
Its cradle may rock
But when the votes
Shall be counted this fall
Down will come rag baby
Kelley and all

It seems the Republican majority in Ohio is not so large as was indicated by the first reports. Still it is pretty safe to say that the Republicans have carried the state by a small majority. To morrow we hope to be able to give our readers reliable information concerning the general result.

The communication of "Citizen" will have to go to the waste basket. There are a great many persons of that name in Oregon and we can not tell which of them wrote the communication.

"ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?"

Gilroy March 1, 1875

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: In an experience of three years with the Averill Chemical Paint more than one half the jobs have chalked, peeled or cracked off notwithstanding the Paint was warranted to do neither and out of sixteen failures the California Chemical Paint Company have refused to furnish Paint to repaint but six of the sixteen. I refer to the following houses that have cracked, peeled and chalked off in this place: James Corey, H C Morey, M D Thomas, Darrough & J Bryant, E H Farmer, Frank Oldham, J H Brickey, G Woodward, Thomas Rea, P Hall, D Whitney, William Wilson, J M Einfalt, E B Hitchcock, J A Baxter, Music Hall, Catholic Church and I might mention many more.

To Proprietors Chemical Paint Company—Gents: I had my house in Oakland painted with your paint. It was warranted to be good and satisfactory in every respect. I was obliged to have the third coat put on to make it look as if it had been really painted and even then I think one good coat of Lead Paint would have given the house a better appearance. I think you ought to make up to me the loss I sustained besides the annoyance I felt knowing that an inferior article had been put on when a No 1 article had been promised. Hoping to hear from you soon on the subject, I remain

To whom it may concern: Seeing in various papers that the California Chemical Paint Company continue to deceive people by saying that the Averill paint will neither peel, crack nor chalk off, I deem it my duty to say that my house, painted with the above named paint in the fall of 1873 failed in less than eighteen months after being painted by peeling, cracking and chalking off in the worst manner imaginable. I also observe that the company have my name in their printed matter as reference; this was done without my knowledge or consent.

To whom it may concern: My house, painted with the Averill Chemical Paint in June 1873 failed in a little over one year after being painted by chalking, peeling, wasting and changing color, some light color some dark. The California Chemical Paint Company are knowing to this and yet continue to deceive the public by saying that the Averill Paint will not peel, crack nor chalk.

CITY.

IN A PRECARIOUS CONDITION.—Mention was made some days ago of a row that occurred at the Pony saloon on Front street in which Mr Ed. Gallagher one of the proprietors was dealt a powerful blow over the right temple with some heavy bludgeon and severely injured. Pat Raffety the person who struck Gallagher, was arrested for committing an aggravated assault tried in the police court and committed to the county jail. Gallagher was conveyed the same day to St Vincent's hospital for medical treatment where he still remains. The contusion was the occasion of profuse hemorrhage and before the flow could be stanched, the injured man came near bleeding to death. Since receiving the blow Gallagher has been conscious for only a few moments at a time. He continues delirious, mutters incoherently, and does not recognize any one. An examination revealed the fact that the skull has been fractured, which leaves but slender hopes of recovery. The person who committed the assault will soon be set at liberty, and if Gallagher should die from the effects of the blow the murderer for such Raffety will undoubtedly be in such an event, should be apprehended and made to answer the grave charge. It is not definitely known what Raffety struck Gallagher with, but from the character of the injuries it is thought the blow was dealt with a bag of hard packed sand or slung shot either of which is regarded by the law as a dangerous weapon.

MAN SHOT AND KILLED NEAR KALAMA.—Our regular correspondent writing from Kalama yesterday, says, "Tuesday, about 3 P. M., our community was startled by the news that Lewis Miller a well known character in this country, had been shot and instantly killed by one John Hugill, a nephew of the deceased. The affair occurred yesterday at Miller's own house, about two miles above here and the particulars, so far as we have learned them are as follows: Miller, who was recently married to his second wife, had been having considerable domestic trouble lately, and it seems had determined to move his household effects from the house where his wife was living to another place some miles distant and yesterday, in company with a brother in law and son in law, went there for that purpose. The wife objected to the removal, and appealed to Hugill to assist in preventing it and in the melee Hugill seized a shotgun from the hands of a third party and fired, the charge striking Miller under the left eye and penetrating the brain. Hugill came to town immediately and gave himself up to the sheriff. A coroner's jury was summoned but have not reported up to this time. Hugill is a young man of quiet industrious habits, and has hitherto borne a good character. The deceased was aged 56 years and was an old resident of this coast.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to an express wagon took sudden fright yesterday morning, at an early hour, and ran away which resulted in a general smash-up to the vehicle and of serious, if not fatal injuries being sustained by the driver Mr Thomas Matthews. The animal ran against a lamp-post, at the corner of Fourth and Taylor streets, at a break neck speed, which smashed the post off level with the sidewalk, and hurled the driver to the pavement with great violence. Continuing on in its mad career the animal did not pause until near the corner of Third and Morrison streets, when the shafts broken short off and the wagon completely turned over. Matthews was picked up insensible, and was found to have sustained very serious injuries. He was soon after conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital and surgical aid invoked. Later in the afternoon we learn that Matthews has sustained injuries of such a character as to render his recovery doubtful.

NUPTIAL TOUR.—Mr. W. H. Adams, our worthy police judge, was united, yesterday in the strong and indissoluble bonds of matrimony to one of the most handsome and accomplished young ladies of the city. The happy couple took the evening train for Salem yesterday and will resume the journey this morning southward. Mr Adams has obtained a leave of absence of two weeks from the city, and, before returning, will visit San Francisco on a bridal tour, probably embarking on the ocean steamer, which will sail for Portland a week from next Saturday. A safe trip, and a speedy return.

MOUNTAIN ROAD.—It is learned from a gentleman who has just crossed the Cascade mountains that the travel over the Barlow road across the Cascades has been much larger this year than last. Several families of immigrants from the states have come in by this route, and have settled in the southern and middle counties. The stock coming and going over this road is simply enormous and the tolls afford much profit to the people along the route. Settlers are making homes on the creek above and below.

ORDER IN PROBATE.—Judge Woodward made the following order in vacation yesterday: Mrs. Mary A. M. Morgan, deceased; order admitting will to probate. John Morgan appointed administrator, bond fixed at $4 000—filed and approved. In the matter of the estate of Emanuel Rodgers; order admitting estate to probate, J B Roberts appointed administrator, bonds fixed at $500,—filed and approved.

LEG FRACTURED.—The unwelcome intelligence was received here yesterday that while Capt. J. A. Sladen, of Gen Howard's staff was out riding at Walla Walla yesterday he was thrown from his horse and sustained a fracture of one of his legs. Surgical aid was called, and he was rendered as comfortable as circumstances would admit of. His return to this city will be delay in consequence.

FIRE BELL.—Mr Ed L Herriff, of Walla Walla, who is now in the city has been authorized by the members of Tiger Engine Co No. 2, of that place, to purchase for the use of that company, a suitable fire bell. Mr Herriff is negotiating with Mr Moore of this city for a bell, such as is required which will doubtless be purchased and shipped for Walla Walla in a few days.

AMUSEMENTS.

To-morrow evening Miss Fannie Marston will give her first operatic and ballad concert in this city, at Masonic Hall assisted by first class talent. An exchange in speaking of Miss Marston "She has what every master so much delights in, but seldom finds a pure, flexible, powerful voice of fine range and equality of register coupled with enthusiasm and real taste for the art of song and with such material a conscientious master can do anything. Her voice is capable not only of intense power in pieces requiring energy of execution, but of much delicacy in the simplest and sweeter ballad." Box office will be opened to-day, at 10 o clock A M at Gerrit L DuPrau's music store.

Nothing contributes more to the personal appearance of a gentleman than a well fitting suit of clothes. A homely man looks well in a close fitting suit and a handsome fellow will appear at great disadvantage if he wears a loose and sloven suit. Why not purchase clothing that will fit closely and look tidy when you do buy. BECK & WALDMAN keep on hand just what you want. All styles and very low.

The Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company have removed to their new brick, corner of Yamhill and First streets, in order to accommodate their constantly increasing business. Their factory is in full blast at the corner of Front and Madison streets. We will give a full description of this establishment in a few days.

FOUND DEAD.

THE LIFELESS BODY OF A CHINAWOMAN FOUND IN A ROOM WITH HER THROAT CUT—EVIDENTLY MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Last evening about 4 o'clock Capt Brannan and Officer Gritzmacher observed a crowd of Chinamen standing on the sidewalk near the corner of Second and Pine streets who from their excited conversation and wild gesticulations appeared unusually perturbed about something. Thinking that there was something not altogether right the officers crossed over to ascertain the difficulty. On the west side of Second street near the corner of Pine and a row of wooden tenements stands which are inhabited by Chinese courtesans. When the officers reached the corner mentioned they observed a Chinawoman standing in the door of one of the buildings who was talking to the group of her countrymen on the opposite side of the street. She was weeping and talking very excitedly and on seeing the officers beckoned for them to come to her. They approached the woman and asked the meaning of the strange proceedings. She began to tell them something about a dead woman and pointed to the back portion of the building bidding them follow her. Following the guide the officers entered the filthy vile den of infamy. Passing through the front room the woman reached a sliding door at the northwest corner of the apartment which she pushed open. Peering through the darkness of a small bedroom which was situated beyond the partition, the officers perceived a black and shapeless heap lying on the floor near the side of a low couch. Calling for a light the officers proceeded to reconnoitre. As soon as the flickering rays of a miserable wax candle dispelled the darkness of the chamber, the officers were startled to find that the heap was neither more nor less than the lifeless body of a Chinawoman. On examining more carefully it was ascertained that the throat of the woman was cut. A small knife, or Chinese razor, was found under her head with which a deep gash had been made on the left side of the neck, just back of the windpipe. The jugular vein was severed, and also a deep cut several inches long was inflicted on the left cheek. The victim had evidently died without a struggle the hemorrhage being sufficient to produce death in a few minutes.

The whole affair is shrouded in mystery, and no satisfactory conclusion can be arrived at as to when and how the sanguinary deed was committed or by whom. The blood which was found on the floor and upon the person of the dead was perfectly dry and the deed had been committed a long time before the body was discovered. Those who occupy houses on each side declare that they saw the deceased yesterday forenoon about 11 o clock and that she was alive and apparently in good health. These women state that they left their houses about 11 o'clock and did not return until 3 o clock in the afternoon. The first intimation had that the woman was dead was when one of the women opened the door of the bedroom. There were two trunks in the room belonging to deceased both of which were filled with papers, clothing etc. On opening the trunks, the contents were found in great confusion, with dried blood smeared upon the articles here and there just as if some person with gore on their hands had fumbled them over. There was also some blood upon the bed, and on the floor leading into the backyard.

Several Chinamen who live in the immediate neighborhood affirm that deceased had in jewelry and money about $400, which she kept in the trunks. Neither jewelry nor money was found in the trunks. At first glance it was thought that the woman had committed suicide but a careful examination of the premises affords conclusive evidence that such was not the case. There is every indication to support the suspicion that tempted by motives of cupidity and perhaps jealousy combined, one of her countrymen murdered her rifled the trunks of money and valuables, and after committing the bloody deed effected his escape through the back yard. No arrest has been made except one of the Chinese courtesans who lived next door. The police are busily engaged in unraveling the skein of mystery which the affair is invested and ere long will doubtless be on the track of the guilty party or parties.

Coroner Wetmore was notified of the event but reached the place at too late an hour to hold an inquest. The body was removed to the morgue and an inquest will be held this morning, when new facts may be elicited.

BANQUET TO GENERAL SHERIDAN.—The San Francisco Bulletin of the 5th has the following account of the banquet given to General Sheridan: The banquet given last night at the Maison Dore by the commandery in this city of the Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States to General Phil Sheridan and Colonel M V Sheridan his brother, both members of the order was a brilliant affair although informal. General Schofield the commander presided General Sheridan occupying the seat on his right hand and Colonel Sheridan a seat opposite the center of the table. The following officers were also present: Gens Thompson Leonard La Grange Webb and Coey; Colonels Smedberg Nelson, Kinne, Stuart, Wilson Hawes Withington, Shaw Preston Linwood; Majors Throckmorton Campbell Ames Backus Fish; Messrs Goodman, Barth Runwell; Drs McNulty and Humphrey; Captain Tripler and Commander Babcock U S N. General Schofield proposed the health of the guest which was feelingly responded to by the latter, who took occasion to compliment the California Hundred for their bravery in the field, and especially for their superb courage at Cedar Creek which will be better remembered as his destination on the afternoon of his memorable 'Winchester Ride.' He also alluded to his tour in Europe during the Franco Prussian war and remarked that the campaign was an easy one for both sides, and that neither of the armies he saw were equal to those which were mustered out on this continent at the close of the war. The healths of Colonel Sheridan and General Schofield were then drank and the following toasts were given in rapid succession: 'President Grant.' 'General Sherman.' 'The State of California.' 'The California One Hundred.' 'The Cavalry Corps.' 'The Pay Department.' 'The Medical Corps.' 'The Fourth United States Artillery.' 'The Ladies.' 'The Navy.' 'The Colored Troops.' 'The Ninth Corps.' 'The Fifth Corps.' and the 'Memories of Generals Thomas, McPherson and Sumner.' The company dispersed at midnight.

An Unanswerable Argument

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisability of administering such corrosive and nerve destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fevers, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs both in respect of its composition and the results wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters a purely vegetable preparation which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague and kindred types of malarious disease from the system, but is a certain preventive. [illegible] The Bitters on the contrary not only afford speedy relief but establish health on a permanent basis.

That youth was soon lost amid the crowd, and no other judges on swine saw him.

An old building that had been used as a schoolhouse, situated in the northern portion of Albany was discovered to be on fire last Tuesday morning. The firemen were promptly on hand but owing to the fire being under such headway before the alarm was given and the distance they had to travel the building was almost consumed before they arrived. The building belonged to Dr Hill and was valued at $800. No insurance. There seems to be no doubt that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

It is no Wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics when so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, but which when tried are found wanting. There is a little more activity noticeable in financial matters. The business is not particularly large but calls for assistance are met with a tolerably fair degree of readiness at current rates both by outside parties and at the banks. The latter however, are still pursuing a policy somewhat conservative and keeping their resources well at command for the accommodation of their regular customers. The requirements of trade are answered in a moderately satisfactory manner by the amount of capital in circulation and notwithstanding the lull in money matters there is no scarcity existing now which is calculated to seriously retard the crop movement for the season or induce any hardening tendency in the rates for loans on unexceptionable security or discounts of prime paper. The market while exhibiting nothing of a flushness is in some degree animated and with the conversion of the heavy surplus products of the state into a coin circulation financial matters would rest upon a very satisfactory basis. The balance of trade ought to be in our favor this season but to make it so the shipments of produce must be largely increased, as importations during the entire year, so far have been very heavy.

A Grain Cargo Decision.

The first vessel to sail from Oregon for Europe with grain in 1875 was the Norwegian bark Grund loven. It seems that her cargo was sold to Gump & Sons extensive grain dealers in London and Liverpool. Some of the sacks on board were cut and the wheat they contained became intermixed and Gump & Sons sued the vessel on her arrival. We are just in receipt of the Hull (Eng.) News of Aug 28th which contains the decision in the case. The suit was brought by the owners of the cargo against the ship to recover $1,200 for damages done to cargo by cutting 2,862 out of 10,738 sacks of wheat loaded in the vessel at Portland Oregon. The chief damage alleged was the mixing of wheat of different qualities which in the sacks were separate. The evidence showed that many of the sacks had been cut purposely and that in some vessels it has been the custom to cut some of the sacks to fill up the spaces and stiffen the cargo. The Judge rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiffs for £239 but so far as the report in the News goes, did not explain the reasons for his decision. We infer that when sacks are cut, the ship is held responsible for all damage that cannot be distinctly proved by the ship-owner to have resulted from the perils of the sea. In the present instance, the ship-owner claimed that the bags had not been cut but had been burst in a storm when the vessel had been thrown on her beam ends; but this assertion was not proved. The bill of lading called for the delivery of so much wheat in so many bags and the ship having failed to comply with the terms was held responsible for all the damage.

Wheat Market.

The market in this department is quite as brisk as could be anticipated under the circumstances. The demand for wheat is quite active though very little disposition is shown to advance rates beyond our former quotations. The outlook for tonnage during the next four weeks is good, and it now seems that the supply will be large enough to fully employ the facilities available for inland transportation in bringing the required freight to tide water. The dispatch which the several vessels to arrive within the time [illegible] will receive depends, of course on the freedom with which producers are inclined to sell, but the indications are that cargoes for all the ships whose arrival is at all soon expected can be secured readily at fair rates. The price paid for the latest engaged vessels is some higher than that ruling earlier in the season owing perhaps to the fact that the movement of the California crop has required so many ships that a large proportion of the disengaged ships arriving on this part of the coast has been taken up for that trade. The tonnage demand there will soon begin to fall off as the surplus wheat is being rapidly cleared out and as it is fair to presume on the continued arrival of disengaged vessels the chance for Oregon shippers to secure charters will be improved as the season advances.

Crop Conditions.

There are said to be no better samples of wheat shown in the English market than some of those from Oregon. Such samples we apprehend will be in good demand this season, as there can be no doubt that the condition of the cereal in many exporting countries has been badly deteriorated by excessive dampness. This is particularly true of the great grain growing states known as the northwest on the headwaters of the Mississippi. Rains in harvest in that section were unusually heavy and long-continued, and greatly injured the crops. The report of the bureau of agriculture at Washington for the months of August and September is quite elaborate and covers a large scope of country. Counting the states in which the cereal is in average condition at 100 the several states named stand as follows. Oregon 106 or 6 above average. California 70 or 30 below average. The principal Mississippi valley states producing wheat stand Texas 122 Arkansas, 113 Tennessee 98 Kentucky 80 Ohio 61 Michigan 83 Indiana, 61 Illinois 78, Wisconsin, 98, Minnesota, 101 Iowa, 77 Missouri 67 Kansas 83 Nebraska, 80. The states above named produce about all the wheat exported from the United States and the figures show a very bad crop as far as condition is concerned. It must be understood that the figures do not indicate that all the crop is in the deteriorated condition but that the average quality is so. For example Oregon 106 and California 70 indicate that the condition of the Oregon grain as regards its merchantable quality is to the California product in the same respects as 106 is to 70.

Shipping Intelligence.

The ship McNear has her cargo of grain on board and will sail in a few days, as soon as the crew is completed.

The Br ship Dilharree went to sea on Tuesday morning with a full cargo of wheat for Europe.

The ship Susie Welt is at Farmer's dock Astoria receiving cargo.

The Br ship Lanarkshire is still lying in the stream at Astoria awaiting an engagement.

The ship Robert Dixon 1,868 tons is reported under charter at San Francisco to load wheat from Oregon for England.

The Am bark Wm H Besse is loading flour for the Hongkong market at Pacific wharf.

The steamship Oriflamme from San Francisco reached her berth at 8 o'clock this morning.

The steamship Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco tomorrow evening at 4 o'clock.

SEATTLE

Homestead Association.

A Rare Chance for Profitable Investment.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE RAPIDLY ACCUMULATING interests and greatly increasing population property in the city of Seattle is held at prices regarded as exorbitant, and in order to meet the demands of persons of small means [illegible] homes, the SEATTLE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION has been organized composed of some of the most responsible men of that section. Tracts of land in the city and extending to the borders of Lake Washington have been surveyed and platted at [illegible] lots 60 feet by 120 feet each have been placed on the market for distribution and are now offered for the small sum of $75 for each lot payable monthly [illegible] all lots with out interest. It is thus placed within the reach of everyone to [illegible] purchase.

Its population of only [illegible] and a large number are daily seeking investments and find great difficulty in procuring them though buildings are going up in all directions, the demand is still far in excess. The city of Seattle is beautifully situated on Elliott Bay, Puget Sound. It has fine natural advantages and gives promise of a most promising future. The three Coal Deposits now being worked with inefficient facilities by three different companies called respectively the Seattle, Renton and Talbot, produce 600 tons of Coal daily, which can't supply the demand. The manufacture of lumber is also an important and profitable business. Ship building is an active industry with other manufacturing and useful occupations encouraging to the investment of capital and labor. Two opposing lines of Steamships direct to San Francisco, afford unusual facilities for freight and passage every week. Seattle is destined to be the metropolis of the Pacific Coast. Her material resources are inexhaustible. Her iron, coal and lumber the three great commercial staples alone will make the capital tributary to her interests. The valleys of the White, Black and Cedar rivers tributaries of the Duwamish river, which empties into the harbor of Seattle will support a large agricultural population.

Lake Washington, 20 miles in length and from 2 to 6 miles wide is about two miles in a direct line from the waters of the sound. It is the intention of the incorporators of this Association whose standing in community is a guaranty of square dealing to open immediately an Avenue 80 feet wide, extending from the bay directly east through the Homestead lands to Lake Washington in which charming locality will be erected the mansions of her business men. The Avenue will be properly graded, paved and sidewalks laid at an expense of $15,000 and will constitute the chief drive and promenade from Seattle to the Lake. It will run along the City Park the College grounds and Lake View Park. Lots on either side will command at least four fold the price paid. The Association [illegible] buildings for a First Class Hotel at the east end of the Avenue (Lake Washington). Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Company.

When all the lots are subscribed for the distribution will be made. The Choice of Lots, including the Hotel will be sold at public auction among the subscribers and the proceeds be divided equally among them. Due notice of the time and place of sale will be made. Warrantee deeds based on a United States patent will be issued to subscribers without charge.

Let no one doubt the future growth of Seattle. Nature has placed her in a position to realize the benefits of an immense traffic. Her port is always open, neither ice nor shifting sand bars impede navigation. No pilotage or river towage to add to her freights. Clear sailing all the year round from her harbor to the ocean. Consider the matter carefully. Think too what San Francisco was in 1849—what chances of a competency were lost in ignoring the future growth of that magnificent city as thousands can attest. Chicago in 1840 was but a small town to-day a great city the admiration of all. Let not this opportunity slip. The small sum of $75, payable monthly without interest, may make you comfortable and be a great benefit to your children. There can be no other investment requiring so small an amount of money that can secure such ample benefits.
